

Newsletter

Milestones & Highlights

ONLINE STUDIO RECORDINGS

This year, I successfully streamlined my online recording processes, enabling students to achieve increasingly professional results from different locations. The growth in quality and confidence is clearly evident in the performances and videos shared throughout the year.

FIRST GROUP PRODUCTION – THE GAYATRI MANTRA

One of the most memorable achievements of the year was directing and producing my first large-scale group project. The Gayatri Mantra was recorded live in the studio with 25 students representing diverse ages and cultural backgrounds. It was a beautiful, unifying experience and a tremendous success, celebrating both music and community.

HEALING VOICE WORKSHOPS

The launch of the Healing Voice Workshops marked the fulfillment of a long-held dream. These workshops were created to share my approach to the deeper benefits of music and singing—well beyond performance alone. Through them, I hope to make my knowledge, experience, and skills accessible to those seeking healing, self-expression, and personal growth through voice. Four workshops were conducted between March and May, each warmly received, with many participants expressing interest in future sessions. I am profoundly grateful for the opportunity to serve and share in this way.

As I reflect on 2025–2026, I remain deeply humbled and grateful for the journey so far. I draw constant strength from my Source, the Divine guidance within, and from the divinity I experience through my students and their families. Your support, encouragement, curiosity, enthusiasm, and belief in my work continue to inspire me and keep my passion alive.

My transition to Europe has exposed me to new perspectives on teaching, learning, and professionalism. It has challenged me to continually refine my approach, reinvent my teaching style, and strengthen my pedagogy. My goal remains to empower students with greater efficiency in practice, stronger technical skills, and more meaningful artistic performance.

As I look ahead, I do so with gratitude, excitement, and renewed purpose. Thank you for being part of this journey and for continuing to fan the flame that inspires all that I do.